About the Lingon Berry
Editor of The Courier-Gazette—

The "Lingon" berries mentioned in your Tuesday issue are red and the size of low bush berries. They are sometimes called mountain cranberries. The name is Swedish and a quantity of these berries have been imported each season from Sweden.
They are used very much like ordinary cranberries for sauces and deserts but they have a much finer flavor. O. W. Easton.

SHOT BY HOLDUP MAN

Father of Waldoboro Ball Player Fatally Wounded In His Store At Blaine

James P. Young, proprietor of the I.G.A. store in Blaine, Aroostook County, was fatally shot Monday night by a holdup man when he grappled with the latter, and three bullets were poured into his body.

An ex-convict, Edmund Cote, 32,
a native of Presque Isle, faces a murder charge as the result of the death of Young. Officials charge that Cote shot Young three times Monday night as the grocery store owner resisted the robbery. Young's wife and four children stood by, helpless and frightened, during the struggle between the two men.

Also held was Mrs. Matilda Burlock, 26, one of the two women who were in Cote's machine when he was arrested near Molokus. Mrs. Burlock, who had the two-year-old son with her, was held as a material witness.

Miss Nellie Browning, 23, of Mars
Hill, the other woman, was released when officials said they were convinced that she was a "victim of circumstances." Sheriff Welch said the young woman went riding with the others in the belief they were to visit Cote's sister at Millinocket.

The victim of the hold-up was the father of Loomis Young, a member of the Waldoboro baseball team the past two years, and who had been employed at Stahl's Tavern in that town. The story of the affair is thus told in a Blaine despatch to the Bangor News:

"When a stranger appeared about 9.30 Monday night in the I.G.A. store, automatic in hand, handkerchief
over his face and ordered the proprietor, James P. Young, 45, to 'stick em up.' Young did nothing of the kind. He made a rush at the hold-up man who fired, the shot striking Young in the mouth.

"Nothing daunted, Young grappled the intruder and they rolled over on the floor in a desperate struggle.
Young trying to wrest the weapon
from the grasp of the intruder.

"It was discharged, the shot taking effect in Young's leg but he kept up the struggle and until the man fired again, this time with the automatic pressed against Young's stomach and then jumped up, seized $200 from the cash drawer and ran to the car outside which was already in motion and raced off toward Houlton."

Cote, arraigned yesterday pleaded not guilty and was held without bail for action by the grand jury. Mrs.
Matilda Burlock, 23, captured with Cote several hours after the shooting was held as an accessory. She was unable to furnish the $5000 bail demanded. Both were taken to the County Jail.

THE OLD KENNEBEC

Recalling How Bath Tub
Made a State Record In Brunswick 40 Years Ago

Forty years ago, Aug. 17, 1893, Kennebec steam fire engine No. 3 of Bath won at a firemen's muster in Brunswick with a State record play of 272 feet, 9 1/4 inches, with 100 pounds of steam pressure. The company received a handsome, big sterling silver pitcher, which is now the possession of Edward H. Cook, retired driver of the Bath department after 52 years service as a call fireman and regular driver. The trophy and a picture of the steamer in front of Engine 3 house, taken at that time, are on display in the Times Office window and will recall to many of Bath's older people a period in fire fighting history that was more colorful if not as efficient as today's motorized era.

Musters with steam engines participating were the rage in those days.
There were two classes, 1st and 2nd, as in the case of hand engines. Steamer
No. 3 was a 2nd class engine. Mr.
Cook believes that her throw of that day, 272 feet, 9 1/4 inches, is still the record.

As today, the only full time firemen were the drivers while the others were call men. When an alarm boomed in the driver would hook up the horses and start for the scene of the blaze. He would start the fire in the steamer as he was leaving the station and usually by the time the conflagration was reached, steam would be well underway. About 15 minutes were required to get steam up to the point needed to combat the blaze.

Hoses were carried on a gig and the men belonging to the fire company would run with this gig from the fire station to the fire.

This steam engine, which made the record play 40 years ago is now stored in Engine 4 house on Water street next to the Hook and Ladder garage. Engine 2 is also there. Only recently when there was a danger of Bath's water pressure falling due to breaks in the pipes across the Kennebec river and the New Meadows within a few hours of each other, these steamers were commissioned and sent out during the period repairs were being made to the pipes across the river bed.

"Fighting a fire in those days was real work," said Mr. Cook as he recalled how the men would have to run with the hose reels a mile or more at times. And there were not the automobiles to pick up call firemen as they do today when an alarm rings in. It was a case of hoof it to the fire—Bath Times.

CHAUTAUQUA COMING

And Here Is An Outline of the Alluring Programs For Three Days

The annual Chautauqua Festival takes place Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of next week at the high school auditorium, under the auspices of the Parent-Teacher Association to raise money for the milk fund. Extra efforts are being put forth to make it a success as the need for milk for undernourished children this winter bids fair to be greater than ever.

The three days' program is a brilliant one. On the first day in the afternoon Miss Anita Ball, will entertain as a reader, whistler, cartoonist, character impersonator, child and dialect reader, soprano singer, master accordionist and other things too numerous to mention. Laurant, acclaimed as one of the greatest magicians of the day, will also present a short program, and in the evening Laurant & Company will give the entire program. Laurant is conceded to be in the class with Kellar, Thurston and other famous magicians. This year he carries one of the greatest shows he has ever produced—a succession of mystifying surprises, as well as scientific mysteries and lightning character impersonations. He displays the art and ingenuity of both ancient and modern conjurers.

Wednesday afternoon Vierra's Hawaiians will present the program,
preceded by a travel talk by Mrs.
Albert Vierra. This entertainment is given amid special scenery which by means of electrical contrivance transports the spectator to Hawaii, land of sunshine and flowers, of silver beaches and glamorous moons.
Mrs. Vierra's talk describes delightfully the life of Hawaii and its people. In the evening the highlight will be Judge Morris Anderson, a lecturer, entertainer and humorist.
He has served as judge, as prosecutor and attorney and three terms as mayor. A man with a brilliant athletic record in school and college, he has found particular interest in dealing with young people, and his lecture deals largely with experiences of boys and girls crying for a chance, of municipal problems involving the young. His lecture will be augmented by a program given by Vierra's Hawaiians, with the gorgeous scenic background.

Thursday afternoon there will be the junior circus, an entertainment designed for the kiddies. Opportunity will be given local children to participate in this circus which will have all the attractions of a real circus by means of clever costuming.
The Metropolitan, will present character sketches, costume impersonations and original stunts. In the evening the three-act comedy
"The Family Up Stairs" will be presented. This glorious comedy of middle class family life, of near-tragedies, goals, ideals, loves, follies and ambitions, seems like real life so true does it ring.

While season tickets ensure seeing all these splendid attractions at a low figure, single tickets may be procured for both afternoon and evening. Season tickets for school children are priced very low. High and Junior High School will be conducted with one session during Chautauqua days to permit pupils to attend, yet arranged so that no lessons will be shortened or eliminated.

DADDY OF THEM ALL

Is Schooner Saltsea, Built 111
Years Ago—Joyce Rebecca Along In Years

Browsing through the files of ships registers, Department of Commerce officials determined the oldest documented vessel under American registry is the Saltsea of Providence
R. I.

The Saltsea, built 111 years ago at Poughkeepsie, N. Y., for Alban Rust of New York city now is owned by the American Oyster Co. at Providence.
During the 111 years she has proven herself to be the very carefully considered. The better we understand this powerful force for good and bad,
the more easily we can control it.
Since our civilization has taught us how to control fire's friendly forces, so must civilization also teach us how to control its unfriendly forces and this was realized back in 1666, after the great London fire when an Englishman wrote as follows:

London In 1666

"There is no accidental calamity in London, so dreadful as that of fire, which no human being can foretell when or where it happens in the night. It's coming upon us with all its terrors, unexpected, unprepared and unguarded, showing no mercy to young or old, man or beast, in its progress; fulfilling the old proverb, fire and water are good servants but bad masters. Every master of a family ought to be as careful as possible to prevent fires and every servant ought to be as careful as his master: When a fire once breaks out, there is no knowing how it may extend, or where it may cease; the master may be lost before the servant,
or the servant lost before the master,
the fury of the fire makes no distinction of persons.

"In all probability when there is idle carelessness in families, fires are most likely to happen in those families: When the master is careless, can he expect that the common run of servants will be inspired with more care; when the mistress is taking her pleasure easy and careless, out of the house, are not the lower servants taking their pleasure, easy and careless in the house? Consider these things."

It is to "consider these things" that the President of the United States proclaims the second week in October each year to be Fire Prevention Week, in order that the entire na-

OUR HOSPITAL WINS APPROVAL

The Knox County General Receives the Endorsement Of the American College of Surgeons

"The most vital force necessary for the carrying out of our program of national recovery is the health of our people," declares Dr. Franklin H.
Martin, director-general of the American College of Surgeons, outstanding international association of more than ten thousand eminent surgeons, which is holding its twenty-third annual clinical congress in Chicago this week.

"If we want recovery we must have health," says Dr. Martin.
"There can be no recovery if our people are sickly. The healthier they are the speedier our recovery.

Therefore, it is absolutely necessary that the health of the public be protected. In this protection there is no more effectual fortress than the modern, approved hospital, which has demonstrated its fine humanitarian qualities during the past four years of the depression by providing competent care for all classes whether they could pay for it or not.

"Just as the economic recovery of our nation is dependent upon health, so is health dependent upon the medical profession and the hospital.
It is, therefore, very gratifying to know that so many hospitals in this country are meeting the requirements of the American College of Surgeons which provide safe and adequate care for the patient."

For sixteen years the American College of Surgeons has conducted annual surveys of hospitals in the United States and Canada in an effort to improve these institutions in the best interests of the public. The surveys have been carried on through the Hospital Standardization movement of the College which has as its basis the Minimum Standard which all hospitals desiring approval must

Whatever ye do, do it heartily, as to the Lord, and not unto men.—Col. 3:23.

APPROVES OUR HOSPITAL

From Franklin H. Martin, M. D., a distinguished Chicago doctor and director general of the American College of Surgeons, there comes to this paper the following communication:

Enclosed you will find a list of hospitals in your state which our investigators this year have found to be meeting the requirements that insure safe and efficient service to the patient. They will appear on the approved list to be announced on Oct. 9, at the opening session of the sixteenth annual Hospital Standardization Conference of the American College of Surgeons.

This annual List of Approved Hospitals has proven of great value to the patient when choosing a hospital, to the prospective student of nursing, and to the recently graduated physician.

As an organization representing more than ten thousand leading surgeons of the United States, Canada, and other countries, we will appreciate publication of the attached article in the interests of better hospital care of the sick and injured; also any editorial comment you might consider appropriate.

The article is printed upon another page. The only editorial comment this paper needs to make is one of satisfaction with the endorsement that thus comes to our local hospital from so high a source. It is a testimonial to the devoted and unselfish endeavors of the management to maintain the Knox General upon the highest level of efficiency and render it worthy of the support which it has so loyally received from the community that it serves.

FIGHTING THE FIRE

The annual nation-wide observance of Fire Prevention Week, which is now engaging public attention, brings home to every property owner the fact that at any moment he may become listed with that group of national fellow-citizens whose yearly fire losses approximate $500,000,000—an enormous waste, the great part of which by universal cooperation might be prevented. We find our own city spared in large measure this form of loss, a gratifying condition, attributable largely to an efficient fire department, a water service of the higher class, and, it may be, as a carelessness on the part of citizens educated along these lines of prevention which this week annually seeks to inculcate, in the young as well as in those of matured years.

STILL ON THE WAY

The scare-heading of Florida's 6 to 1 vote for repeal merely confirmed what everybody has long discounted, that the eighteenth amendment is slated for the junk pile, and for all practical purposes might as well be laid there today as to spin out the slow agony of the process. Already the liquor forces have both feet in the stirrups (no pun is intended but the word has significance) and should be charged with the responsibilities that thereto belong. They tell us that with prohibition legally banned the country is to prosper and crime find itself reduced to its smallest proportions. Here is a jaunty conclusion different from anything this country previously has been acquainted with. We might the more incline to give it credence if there was some definite program put forward by the wets for the bringing to pass of these conditions, vaguely promised but with nothing in past history to lend them justification. The responsibility lies with the wet forces, and it is a tremendous one. Already they are finding trouble with their adherents crying for return of the saloon. There are those of us who incline to the belief that the saloon will come out on top. It always has.

IT WAS IN 1492

On this day, October 12, we celebrate—at least we allude to the fact—the landing upon these western coasts of Christopher Columbus, 441 years ago. It is an epic story, familiar to every school pupil. We make it a point on the recurrence of the day to renew with our readers acquaintance with that poem of Joaquin Miller's which embalms in dramatic fashion the historical and heroic figure of the great discoverer. It's a good poem especially for the young to read, with its lesson of the daring spirit that no obstacle could turn aside.

ALAN WAS THE HOST

In his Dodge Mountain cottage last evening Alan L. Bird had for his guests at supper the Rotary Club of which he is president—a supper of generous proportions which admirably opened the evening to music and talk and the laying of plans for the coming season's activities. With Marshall Bradford as leader the singing was more than usually vibrant, which is praise enough for the local club, which has reputation for being one of the foremost singing clubs on the Rotarian circuit. The session, lasting well into the hours of preparation for the hospitality of President Bird, which made the occasion unique in the club history.

NOTICING

Have any of this paper's readers, gifted with the noticing faculty, noticed—

THAT the older a man grows the smaller the amount he serves to those sitting with him at table.

THAT next to the worry of spelling a word wrong is the nuisance of hunting through a big dictionary to prove it.

THAT there's always one member in a family to whom the others turn for the dates of births, weddings, and deaths.

THAT in place of the player sliding to third in a violent mix-up of dust and legs you now have to get your sporting page excitement out of the huge star player with one foot set on the earth and his other leg pointing toward 11 o'clock.

THAT the reason she has her fingernails painted red is not because she thinks it pretty but because the other girl does it.

THAT some day—by-and-by of course—you're going to put all your affairs into perfect order so that those who come after you won't have it to bother with.

THAT when the merchant asks you for a little something on account he doesn't do it to be unpleasant but simply because he needs it.

THAT nothing today has been able to fill the place of those little white candy hearts on which were printed sentiments adapted to the girls with whom you felt yourself in love.

THAT you approve your neighbor getting in his winter coat but you wish his cellar window wasn't opposite that side of your house where you take an afternoon nap.

THAT through some perversity of nature which you cannot understand you never seem to have read the book that all your acquaintances are talking about.

THAT the churches of the city used to ring at nine o'clock Sunday what was known as the "first bell," a note of warning, which went out of vogue when the Congregationalists abandoned bell-ringing altogether, raising with others the question why it needed to be done twice.

THAT you thought yourself pretty clever at cross-word puzzles until you tackled one in the paper a friend sent from England, which laid you out cold.

THAT human nature is so common with all of us that we are pleased with seeing ourselves pictured in the newspaper group whether it looks like us or not.

THAT there's no surer barometer of advancing years than your growing inability to remember the name of everybody who doesn't owe you.

THAT the presence of dead skunks on many highways proves that gasoline is more powerful than the skunk.

THAT it was 441 years ago today that Columbus landed in the midst of our early Americans, for whom antique furniture is now named, and that you're still uncertain whether the trouble he went to was after all worth while.

THEY OUGHT TO SEE

Lamps From Grindle's Pt. Lighthouse To illuminate Islesboro Public Library

Through the efforts of Miss Alice L. Pendleton, Islesboro Public Library has acquired the two lamps which were used for many years in the tower of Grindle's Point Lighthouse, the one whose rays marked for a long period the treacherous entrance to Gilkey's Harbor on the north and the spare which was always kept in readiness in case accident befell the one in use. Miss Pendleton will have the huge lamps wired for electric current and they will be used as reading lamps in the library's main room. Miss Pendleton spares no effort to obtain for the library articles of local history interest and already a large collection of these have been assembled.

Several models of local ships are among the collection. The latest addition to this particular class of local souvenirs is a model of the top-sail schooner, Anne Elizabeth of the last vessel of this type to sail out of Penobscot Bay. She was owned and sailed by Capt. Hobart Dodge some forty years ago. The small model of this old-timer was built and presented to the library by Harry A. Babidge. Miss Pendleton made an effort to secure the old fog bell formerly used in connection with Grindle's Point Light, meaning to present it to Islesboro High School, but was informed by government officials that the bell is not for sale. Grindle's Point light was abandoned last June 30.

RALPH A. GUSHEE

Death of Former Appleton Man, Proprietor of Famous New York Inn

Ralph Adrian Gushee, native of Appleton, for 41 years proprietor of the historic Claremont Inn, Riverside Park and 126th street, New York, died there last Saturday of a heart ailment after a week's illness. His age was 67.

Food connoisseur, who was host and friend to many of the politically famous, Mr. Gushee was the father-in-law of Vincent Richards, United States professional tennis champion. Although of distinguished lineage, he was born poor, a son of a Maine farmer. He traced his ancestry from Charlestown through the French Huguenots and the Mayflower Pilgrims. Later ancestors served in the Continental Army in the American Revolution.

Mr. Gushee attended public schools in Maine and Boston, later making a living by giving instruction in penmanship in the latter city. Going to New York as a young man, he was for several years assistant manager of the old Hoffman House. He then leased Claremont Inn, already a flourishing restaurant, from New York city, and had since managed it personally. He later built the Longue-Vue Inn at Hastings-on-Hudson, which he owned at his death.

Claremont Inn was built by the Pollock family, probably about 1797, when St. Clair Pollock, a child in the family, was killed in a fall from the bluff near the house. The boy is buried on the property with the legend "An Amiable Child" on the headstone. It was from the Claremont family, which occupied it as a residence after the Pollocks, that the inn derived its name. In 1872 it was acquired by the city, and in 1892 Mr. Gushee leased it. It has been an inn for seventy-five years.

Mr. Gushee was host to William McKinley in 1897 at a dinner given by the city. In 1899 the city entertained Admiral Dewey, fresh from his Manila triumph, at the Claremont.

Mr. Gushee knew all the prominent men who took part in the many festivities at the Inn. There too have dined leaders in the financial, business and social worlds.

During the World War Mr. Gushee was active in food conservation work under former President Hoover. At the request of Mr. Hoover and the late John McE. Bowman Mr. Gushee went to Washington and aided in the organization of the Hotel and Restaurant Division of the United States Food Administration as one of a committee of four representing New York State, New Jersey and Pennsylvania.

Mr. Gushee also was a prominent real estate operator in New York city and in Westchester County for many years. He was president and a director of the R. A. Gushee Company, Col-Clare Realty Company, the Longue-Vue Hotel Company and the Ardelle Realty Company and vice president and treasurer of the Vincent Richards Tennis Schools, Inc.

Prominent in Masonry, he was a member of Crescent Lodge, Adelphi Council of the Palestine Commandery, Grand Chapter of the State of New York, of the Royal Arch Masons, Mecca Temple of the Shrine and of Azim Grotto. His clubs included the Lambs and Rockwood Hall. He belonged to the State of Maine Society, the Society of Mayflower Descendants, the Sons of the American Revolution and the Society of Colonial Wars.

Mr. Gushee was a widower. His wife, the former Miss Louise Ardelle Perkins, died three years ago. He is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Claremont Gushee Richards, who lives with her husband in Bronxville, N. Y.; a son, Collis Bell Gushee, manager of the Longue-Vue at Hastings; two sisters, Mrs. Elizabeth Newbert of Union, and Mrs. Mary Ness of Appleton; and a brother, Thomas Gushee of Camden.

The body of Mr. Gushee lay in state at the Claremont Inn, where it remained until private funeral services Monday. Burial was in Woodlawn cemetery.

"ON MY SET"

Many Rockland radio fans tuned in to WNAK at 10:30 Tuesday night to hear the opening installment of Alton Hall Blackington's broadcasts entitled "Over the Cameraman's Shoulder." Interference from a Pittsburgh station caused much vexation, but on the whole the broadcast came through clearly. Mr. Blackington talks in a clear, incisive manner, wasting no words, and imparting lots of interesting information in the 15 minutes allotted to him.

Being a native of Rockland, and having obtained his preliminary experience as a photographer in his home city, it is not surprising that Mr. Blackington's broadcasts contained several allusions to Rockland events and persons, as he will doubtless continue to do in future broadcasts. He assured his listeners that the moon has nothing to do with our knot (like that which Ed Dean makes down Knox County way) and he referred to the Rockland fire when the harbor was frozen over, his kindly allusion to the editor of this column being a comforting reminder of the pleasant hours we spent together in his studio over the old Courier-Gazette office. The Blackington broadcasts will come on Tuesday Thursday and Saturday nights at 10:30, over WNAK.

HONORED COLUMBUS

Supt. Morse Tells the Lions About Discoverer Who Batted Well But Got Little Credit

The Rockland Lions Club occasionally drafts one of its own members for speaker, and such was the case yesterday when the entertainment committee selected F. L. S. Morse the well known superintendent of schools. The result was an exceptionally interesting address—most on educational topics, as Mr. Morse had planned, but a talk on Christopher Columbus, as being especially appropriate on the eve of Columbus Day.

Guests on that occasion were Floyd Duncan of North Haven and Harry Stewart of Thomaston.

The noonday luncheon was well spiced with reminiscences of "It's a Gift," the musical comedy sponsored by the club in Thomaston last week, and Chet Black, Patchy Saville and Duke Annis put on one of the dances. The report of Treasurer Nott showed that the play netted $622.25 despite unfavorable weather conditions.

The Lions are on the verge of "busting" into candlepins, and there will be a private rehearsal to that end tonight.

Supt. Morse prefaced his talk on Columbus with a reference to "the stories of the old navigators"—Ice-land sagas which dealt with visitations premeditated or otherwise, to the mainland southwest of Iceland.

The land seen on those occasions became variously known as Vinland, New Ireland and Terra Nova. Many may not know that Columbus made a voyage to Iceland in 1478. Almost every reader of history knows how Christopher tried to finance an expedition to Asia, by sailing westward, and how the king and queen of Spain came to his rescue after having vanished the Moors from their Kingdom.

When Columbus discovered Cuba he thought he had reached Japan. He made four voyages in all, and died discredited and practically disgraced, but his son Diego was made governor of the West Indies. Nobody knows where the great discoverer was buried.

Associated with him on his expedition was Ponce de Leon. They didn't hitch horses for a cent, and Ponce threw down his sword and started to find the Fountain of Youth.

As an outcome of the expeditions to America there was organized the India House, which, according to Supt. Morse was the prize monopoly in controlling traffic to and from America.

Columbus' name was not honored through his achievements; rather the distinction went to Americus Vesputius, who was the Doctor Cook of that period, according to the speaker.

In the open forum Supt. Morse answered numerous questions readily, showing himself particularly at home on matters Spanish.

THE LEGION SMOKER

Wrestlers Came Late But the Program Pleased Crowd of Three Hundred

The fortnightly smoker at American Legion hall Tuesday night drew a crowd that filled every nook and corner of the old Y.M.C.A. gymnasium. A quartet even found seats on top of the piano, but they played not, neither did they sing.

A couple of Belfast youngsters opened the show—Battling Pine and Young Moody. Pine was the aggressor and landed plenty of blows on his opponent who was built upon playful much the same model as Fatty Spinkler, who figured so prominently in the "funnies" some years ago.

A couple of Washington boys next climbed through the ropes—Chet Miller, 14, a raven-haired youth who had an auburn haired second, and a very enthusiastic feminine cheering squad. His opponent was Juno Collins a blond-haired lad to whom a punch in the jaw seemed to be all in the day's work. Miller did most of the leading, but was manifestly tired when the bout ended.

Red Smith of Rockland, who displayed good form in boxing and no lack of courage, was not quite the match of Frenchy Huard of Belfast and lost on a technical knockout. Frenchy entered the ring with a black eye which some boxer had given him the previous night, but he had fine vision with the other one.

Young Freeman was the aggressor in his bout with Don Robbins of Thomaston, but the latter, who is better known as a baseball pitcher, was just as able in the ring as he is in the box. Both boys came out of the ring fresh.

Jack Bonney of Liberty was too many guns for Johnny Boardman of Rockland, who was knocked down three times in the second round, and who went down for keeps in the third round. Boardman was no quitter, and got a good hand when he left the ring.

Al Wilson of Rockland and Artie Gray of Belfast staged a good lively bout, Wilson always fights under the handicap of being much shorter than his opponent, and had to virtually leap at Gray in order to land his blows. He outpointed the Belfast boxer, but the latter was never in any serious danger and seemed as happy and good natured as if it were only fun to take Wilson's terrific clouts. The two men subsequently appeared in a wrestling bout which went ten minutes without a fall, and which was altogether too soon natured to be considered modern wrestling.

Oliver Hamlin, matchmaker of the Legion bout, refereed the boxing and wrestling matches, and did the announcing, in which he promised another good show two weeks hence. Harry Spencer of Belfast, and Rough House Phillips, the wrestlers arrived late because of a flat tire which had held up the bitter enemies' car. Spencer won, two falls out of three, but while there was considerable roughness in the bout the spectators did not get quite so

Sim's 3, Merchants 2

The opening game in the Knox Bowling League at the Recreation alleys Tuesday night was close enough to suit anybody, Sim's Shop defeating the Merchants by 14 pins, and taking three of the five points. McGinn had high total and high striding (110). The summary:

Sim's Shop—Berlowsky, 262; Thomas, 283; McGinn, 295; Fisher, 249; Simmons, 256; total, 1345.

Merchants—Margeon, 264; Jones, 275; Marshall, 250; Clark, 261; Gray, 281; total, 1331.

EVERYBODY KICKING

By Which We Mean the Football—Boothbay Harbor Comes Saturday

Coach Szak has worked his boys hard this week. Monday usually is a day off for the football team but the Coach dissatisfied with the scoreless tie at Camden had his squad work out in the gym this Monday. A number of new plays of the deceptive and wide open type of football were given out. The fans may therefore look forward to a game of thrills Saturday when Rockland will attempt many reverses, triple passes and laterals.

Tuesday and Wednesday were spent in heavy scrimmages on a very muddy field in order that the Coach could get his team to perfect the coordination of the line and the backfield on the attack. Today and Friday will be spent in long-passing drills for the backfield and instructions in blocking for the line when they are forming interference. Coach Szak is undecided as to his starting lineup for Saturday. However, it looks as if plans are being made to use many men because much time has been spent on the second and third teams Monday the coach is planning to have the freshman team

STRAND THEATRE

Some idea of the cultural and economic life of a small Mid-West town in the early 1900's is graphically reflected in the odd and unusual props used in Paramount's "One Sunday Afternoon," coming with Gary Cooper in the starring role. The film, adapted from the Broadway stage hit of the same name, was written by James Hagan. It revolves around a small town dentist, played by Gary Cooper, who has spent a life-time yearning for a former sweetheart who married another. However, after twenty years, the clinging vine beauty reappears in the town where Gary is a successful dentist. What happens then, and how through her returning Gary is made to realize the fine qualities of his own pretty wife, gives a splendid, heart-touching finish to the picture.

Robert Armstrong, Helen Mack and play the Junior High team. Lee Thomas has been working the freshmen, while Gabby Fowler has had his hands full with 55 Junior High candidates.

With three High School teams, a couple of freshmen teams and about three or four Junior High teams practicing every afternoon, Commu-ity Park certainly presents a spectacle. At least it shows that Rockland is again getting football minded.

Roland Young comes Saturday in "Blind Adventure." A young American blunders into an old English mansion and becomes involved in extraordinary intrigue. Amazing and eerie complications ensue and the American is compelled to escape across London rooftops with a beautiful girl whom he has met under peculiar circumstances. A timid burglar, called "Sherlock" Holmes, makes a hilarious entrance into the plot, and his professional experience is enlisted by the fleeing pair. The three make their way to a certain address, at the instructions of a bogus Secret Service man, where they fall into blackmailer's hands who hold them as hostages to force the delivery of important military secrets held by the girl's uncle, a British army officer—adv.

WEATHER
The present morning, following the example of that preceding, finds open skies in which the sun is at his best, giving hope for another of those October days which history records it the natural heritage of this section of autumn. It is the 41st anniversary of Christopher Columbus setting fast on western shores, for which Main street flags are appropriately flown. Boston reports glorious weather, temperature 58, just like Rockland's. The U. S. bureau says partly cloudy today and tomorrow. Let us enjoy under the brilliance of the foliage whatever comes.

Major Ralph W. Brown has leased the G. L. St. Clair house on Rankin street.

Rockland High meets Boothbay Harbor at Community Park Saturday afternoon.

Hiram P. Farrow, the veteran civil engineer, suffered a bad fall Tuesday, necessitating the attendance of a physician.

King Hiram's Council, R.S.M., has its annual inspection Nov. 3, at which time there will be work on a class of candidates.

Ex-Congressman Partridge who is to address the Baptist Men's League one week from tonight will have as his subject, "The Hills Ahead." Before the Rockland Rotary Club on the following day he will speak on "Why America Is Safe."

The salary resolve for the coming year made its appearance at Monday night's City Government meeting, and will be acted upon at the November session which will be the last regular meeting of the present City Government. There is no change in the schedule from last year.

Women football fans, and those who would like to be, are reminded that next Sunday will be ladies' day at Community Park with no admission charge for the fair sex. The opposing teams will be the Rockland Shells and Westbrook Huskies.

City Hall is no longer under the Blue Eagle. The insignia was blown from the masthead during the last storm and came down in the street with a crash which awoke the neighborhood. The loss of the emblem does not mean that the city is not in full sympathy with the NRA, however.

The local vulture of the Forty and Eight held its annual meeting in Camden Monday night. The principal officers elected: Austin Brewer, chief de gare; Oscar E. Wishman, chief de train; Louis Cates, correspondent; Dr. M. C. Stephenson, grand chemist; Clarence Leonard, commissaire intendant; conducteur, H. J. Anderson; garde de la porte, Wesley Oxtun; lampiste, Forrest Tibbitts; commis voyageur, Al. Sablin. The installation will be held Nov. 6.

Public interest in football has grown so rapidly in the last year that demands for play-by-play reports of games this fall have forced Western Union to triple the number of colleges and universities whose games will be described over the telegraph sport network. More than 150 teams, all of whose games will be "covered." Detailed reports of as many as 135 games each Saturday will be sent out from as many playing fields. The descriptions include such details as the line-up, the end of each down, who is in the ball game, required on succeeding down, kick-offs, touchdowns, fumbles and goals.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Witham and Edith Witham left this morning for West Branch where they will devote the next week or 10 days deer hunting. Enroute they will be joined by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Smith, Chesuncook, going up the lake to their home, where they will spend the night. Mr. and Mrs. Smith will come back to Rockland with them. Mrs. Smith being easily lured here by the attractive tales of the seashore which were furnished by her husband after a visit here. Incidentally this will be the 17th consecutive season that Mr. and Mrs. Witham have visited the big woods.

The Women's Association of All Souls' Congregational Church in Bangor came of age this year, for it was just 21 years ago in September that a group gathered at the home of Mrs. Charles A. Moore, wife of the pastor, to organize a band of earnest women whose aim it was to work for the church and its people. Many of the original group are still faithful workers in the association.

The selection of Mrs. Moore as president 21 years ago was such a happy choice that she has been re-elected from year to year, and has just entered upon her 22d season as full of enthusiasm and energy for doing good as on her first. Recalling Mrs. Moore's activity in the local church during her husband's pastorate here, it can be well understood that the tribute from the Bangor church is justified.

F. J. SIMONTON CO.

R. E. Estes has bought the G. M. Simmons house on Talbot avenue, and plans to occupy it about Nov. 1st.

The floor of Ocean View Ball Room is now in process of being resurfaced and will hereafter be devoted exclusively to dancing.

The final baseball game of the season will be played at Togus Sunday, the Home team's opponent being the Major League All Stars.

A mail vote is being conducted by the Chamber of Commerce for the nomination of four directors. The polls close next Monday at 2 p. m.

Floyd Duncan of North Haven is spending the week in this city while the motor of the Morrow power boat is being overhauled at Lamb's in Camden.

Congressman Moran has been advised that a survey should be made for the proposed postoffice in Boothbay Harbor, with a view to including the project in the public works program.

The Spanish Villa skating rink is to have an independent heating system this winter, and Manager Allen announced yesterday that a boiler would be installed before the close of the present week—Ralph Glendinning, has challenged Wendell Chapies to a roller skating race up to five miles.

F. L. S. Morse also is a grower of the Porter apple, beautiful examples of which he gathers from trees set out years and years ago upon the old home farm at Morse's Corner, which, he declares, have never lost their knack of producing delicious fruit. "And I think," Lee adds in a tone of sincerity, "that the Porter is the most delicious of all apples."

The Rockland diner which flourished for a brief summer opposite the Fuller-Cobb-Davis store was removed from its foundation Tuesday night, and will find new quarters in Worcester, it is understood. It leaves a conspicuous vacancy on Main street, but it is safe to assume that the departure of this out-of-town competitor will not leave the home restaurant proprietors inconsolable.

The C.C.C. camps are having at least one good result, and that is the physical betterment of those in attendance. A Knox County instance is seen in the case of Wendell Howard, a North Haven boy, whose health was anything but rugged when he went to the Princeton camp. He is now home on a week's leave, brown as a nut, and having gained 17 pounds in weight. He is signed up for six more months of service.

FIND THIS MAN!

The State Police are looking for the heartless hit and run driver who at 5:30 yesterday afternoon ran over Loren Gaudin, 3 1/2 years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. Victor C. Grindell of 105 New County road. The driver was seen to stop and look back, and then sped away toward Thomaston. The child has a fractured skull and has not regained consciousness.

From Wheaton, Ill., comes word that Everett Frohock, son of Dr. W. Frohock, is playing end on the junior varsity team of Wheaton College. The former Rockland High boy is bound to make good.

Grand Military Instructor Alexander La Fleur conducted a Knight Templar school of instruction at the local asylum yesterday and Sir Knights came from a wide radius. In the evening Claremont Commandery was inspected by Grand Generalissimo Edward W. Cram. An Eastern Star supper separated the two events.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Gwendolyn Plummer Seavey, who passed away Oct. 14, 1928.
No, not cold beneath the grasses,
Not close walled within the tomb,
Farther in our Father's Mansion
Living in another home.
Shall I doubt my Father's mercy?
Shall I think of death a doom?
Or the stepping over the threshold
To a bigger, brighter home?
Shall I blame my Father's wisdom?
Shall I sit enshawed in gloom.
When I know my loved one is happy,
Waiting in another home?
Norma and Martha, her children,
Father, Mother and Sisters.

We have received a copy of the Winthrop (Mass.) Sun describing at length the honors bestowed upon Rev. W. J. Day, pastor of the First Baptist Church in that city on the occasion of his 20-year pastorate. The citizens of Winthrop vied with one another in expressing their admiration and affection, and not the least pleasing feature was the receipt of two congratulatory letters from Rockland—scene of another long pastorate—one from the church and one from the Baptist Men's League. The concluding paragraph of the Sun's story reads: "This 20-year milestone will but serve as a starter to the Rev. and Mrs. Day, to make more profitable to themselves and First Baptist Church the highway of holiness, which leads to God, and the perfection of men."

Now! A Quicker Way to Ease Pain

Don't Forget Real BAYER Aspirin Starts "Taking Hold" in Few Minutes

Here is quicker relief from pain—the fastest safe relief, it is said, ever known. This is due to a scientific discovery by which BAYER Aspirin starts "taking hold" of pain a few minutes after taking.

The illustration of the glass here tells the story. A Bayer tablet starts to disintegrate or dissolve—go to work—almost instantly. This means quick relief from pain—fewer lost hours from headache, neuritis, rheumatism. And safe relief. For genuine Bayer Aspirin does not harm the heart.

When you buy, see that you get the genuine Bayer Aspirin. The best way is never to ask for aspirin by the name "aspirin" alone. But if you want Bayer Aspirin's quick relief always to say "BAYER Aspirin."

SPRUCE HEAD

Mrs. Annie Thompson

Never has sorrow been more keenly felt in this community than in the death Oct. 3, of Annie M., wife of Sidney Thompson. Although in poor health for several years, she was a woman of sunny nature, always ready to do her part whenever called; interested in the church and all its activities, lending her voice in song, both in choir and solo for many years, until ill health prevented.

Since then her greatest pleasure was to mingle with friends of which she had many, by whom she will be greatly missed. Her passing away is a personal loss; a void is left that will not soon be filled.

Mrs. Thompson was born in Scotland, Jan. 20, 1877, daughter of Lachlan and Jean McClelland. She came to this country when a small child, her life then being spent in South Thomaston and this village.

Thirty-six years ago she was married to Mr. Thompson, who survives her, and with whom she lived in A. and Ralph L., a daughter, Lila, died several years ago. Other members of the family are the daughter-in-law, wife of Leslie, and the two little granddaughters to whom she was fondly attached; three sons, Mrs. H. Griffin of Bridgton, Mass., Mrs. William Elise of Clark Island and Mrs. Alex Clark of California; also several nieces and nephews to her very dear. To each of these heartfelt sympathy is expressed.

The interment was in Forest Hill cemetery. Services were conducted by Rev. Mr. Barton of Tenants' Harbor. The bearers were Raymond Rackliff, H. F. York, Lewis Simmons and George Snow. The flowers were many and beautiful speaking plainer than words the high esteem in which the deceased was held.

Fold thy hands, thy work is over.
Cool thy watching eyes with tears.
Let thy poor heart, over-wearied,
Rest alike from hopes and fears.

All thy cares and sorrows over,
Thy bid for us to part.
But of you these our fondest memories
Ever linger in our heart.

Dearest, Friend, our farewells spoken,
As the tears bedim our eyes,
But some day we hope to meet thee
When there'll be no more good-byes.

Mrs. Margaret Elwell.

NORTH HAVEN

Pica For the Phrasant

Recently upon the Island there has been liberated some pheasants. The move is in line with the effort to establish this wonderful bird, so that it may become one of the game birds of the state along with partridge, woodcock and sea-birds. At present the pheasant everywhere in Maine is a protected bird throughout the whole year. This round the year protection is for the purpose of allowing them to breed in sufficient numbers to establish themselves, and not to allow them to be shot prematurely so as to defeat this aim of the Fish and Game Commission. No one who is a good sportsman will knowingly shoot one of these birds. The law is upon them and a violation of the law carries with it a severe penalty. Here's to the pheasant at North Haven. May they thrive and multiply here and throughout Maine. Parents are asked to co-operate by seeing to it that their children do not molest these birds.

Let's know the truth about MOTORS

No other car with a V-8 motor sells for less than $2245

Every world speed record—on the water, in the air, on the road—is held by a V-type motor.

The trend is unmistakably to the V-type motor

All but one of America's highest-priced cars are powered with V-type motors... The Ford V-8 uses no more fuel than a 4 or 6 cylinder car... 18 to 20 miles per gallon of gas... more power than any car in the low-price field (75 H. P.)... more power per pound of weight than any car under $4825... aluminum cylinder heads add 10 extra horse power... V-8 compactness provides greater fuel economy... The Ford V-8 is the most economical fast car on the road.

*Maximum of 22.53 miles per gallon in 5000-mile economy run supervised by the American Automobile Association

Its V-8 motor puts the Ford out in front, not only in its price class but throughout the entire price range up to $2245. The Ford brings V-8 power within reach of the average family.

The V-8 motor is more efficient than a six or a straight eight. Its two short banks of cylinders mean even distribution of fuel... greater efficiency... more power with ecomony. The short crankshaft adds strength—eliminating vibration. The aluminum cylinder heads permit sustained high speed without overheating. The V-8 motor delivers a surplus of smoothly flowing power for pick-up to 60 in second... for ease of handling and safety at all speeds... for 80 miles an hour if you want to drive that fast.

Why be satisfied with less than 8 cylinders and V-8 efficiency. Spend thoughtfully. Buy the car of tomorrow now—the Ford V-8.

MRS. LOUISE (MILLS) SAWTELLE
The death of Mrs. Louise M. Sawtelle Sunday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Ella S. Bird, after a week's illness brought sadness to many who held affection for her either by ties of kinship or friendship.
Mrs. Sawtelle was born March 10, 1852, in Vinalhaven, the daughter of Capt. W. H. and Emeline (Dyer) Mills. Her mother died when she was small and the family removed to Rockland where schooling was undertaken and a permanent residence made. From her marriage to Francis Cleveland Sawtelle, who died several years ago, came six children, three of whom survive—W. S. Sawtelle of Livermore Falls, Mrs. Elizabeth Whitehouse of Berlin, N. H., and Mrs. Bird. Other survivors are several grandchildren and great-grandchildren. Mrs. Sawtelle was the last of her immediate family.
Since the death of her husband Mrs. Sawtelle had made her home with her children, spending the winters with her Bird, in whose home she found comfort and happiness in her association with young people, for whom she always had a warm heart. A great lover of home life, of quiet tastes, and seldom mingling in outside life in her later years, nevertheless she surrounded herself with countless friends who mark her passing as a distinct loss.
Funeral services were held from Mrs. Bird's home Tuesday with Rev. George H. Welch of the Universalist Church officiating. Bearers were Richard Bird, C. H. McIntosh of Portland and Hilton Whitehouse and Gerald Whitehouse of Berlin, N. H. The floral tributes were beautiful. Interment was in Achorn cemetery.
